CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

SATURDAY.....OCT. 24, 1874.

The Evening Express thinks we are not reliable as "a water authority." Well, we had rather be a poor judge of water than a good judge of whisky.

The little trimmer over the way, has nothing to say in response to our inquiry of why it accepted support from the Republican County Committee and advocated the election of a Democratic candidate.

The Express says the HERALD was "compelled" to publish the Health Officer's card. Our little contemporary is informed that the HERALD needs no compelling to publish a courteously written correction. It does not do as the Express did after libeling and slandering our German-born citizens and insulting them by asserting the Chinese language preferable to their native tongue, agree to publish a communication in refutation of its slanders and afterward refuse to keep its promise.

Farmers Coming.

By the last trip of the Orizaba, there arrived in this city one hundred and fifty passengers. A large proportion of those are people who come to see the country and if they find it all that it has been represented they will take up their permanent residence here. Some twelve or fifteen farmers from Sonoma county came down for the purpose of examining the land in San Fernando valley, which they have heard is well adapted to the growing of wheat and other small grain. A number of the party went up to San Fernando yesterday to examine for themselves an area of soil about which they have heard so much. Mr. G. K. PORTER who is largely interested with Senator MACLAY in the San Fernando grant, also arrived on the Orizaba and has gone up to the land of olives and oil. As soon as the plans for introducing an abundance of water assume definite shape, the valley about San Fernando will receive a large accession to its population, and thousands of acres that have lain uncultivated for years will be dotted with farm houses and covered with waving grain.

Los Angeles Raisins.

The Alden Fruit Drying Factory just completed in this city by Mr. Geo. B. DAVIS, turned out its first raisins yesterday. They were manufactured from the Mission grape and confirm our prediction of some weeks ago that the Los Angeles Mission grape would turn out a raisin greatly superior to that manufactured from the same quality of grape grown in vineyards of Santa Clara, Alameda, Solano and Sonoma counties. The raisin from the Mission grape of those sections is now in the San Francisco market, and is in great demand for common use. It is small and wanting in saccharine matter. The raisin produced from the Mission grape at Mr. DAVIS' factory is nearly or quite double the size of that above described, and much sweeter and finer flavor. Several of our leading grocery firms, after a careful examination of the Los Angeles Mission grape raisin, pronounced it equal to the best imported Malaga. There is no longer any doubt but that the grapes of this valley will make a raisin vastly superior to that produced from the grapes grown further north. Mr. DAVIS' factory will produce five or six tons per day, and by the close of the season will turn out from fifty to seventy-five tons of a superior quality of raisins.

Ingratitude.

We notice, and it is a subject of comment among intelligent and observing men, that a number of journals in this State are indebted to the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company for their prominent position, if not their very existence, lose no opportunity to attack, always virulently and often unjustly and unreasonably, the Central Pacific Railroad Company. Prominent among these newspapers are the San Francisco Post and Chronicle. It is a well known fact that neither of these journals could ever become a member of the Associated Press. That association was closed against them, and they possessed neither of the keys— influence or money—which alone would unlock it. Without the Eastern telegraphic dispatches, no San Francisco journal could hope to attain financial success or influential position, and it is no doubt a fact that but for the facilities offered by the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company the papers named would not now have a local habitation and a name. They cannot be ignorant of the fact that it is through the Central Pacific Railroad Company they are enabled to compete with the Associated Press journals—the Bulletin, Union and Call—in the all important item of telegraphic news. They must know that it is the railroad company's wires that give us another line to the Atlantic Coast, to Europe and around the world, and that without these wires the Western Union and the Associated Press would still maintain a monopoly, which during the long years it existed became galling, oppression and extortionate. It is the basest ingratitude to strike the hand that lifts us from the mire. Every newspaper in California that avails itself of the liberal facilities offered by the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company for obtaining the news, and yet fills its columns with unjust and unwarranted attacks on the railroad company proves itself guilty of that basest of crimes—ingratitude. Messrs. STANFORD, CROCKER & Co. could not make warmer friends of the Associated Press journals that are now their enemies, nor kill off faster those papers they have warmed into life only to be bitten by them, than to sever their connection with the competing telegraph line and refuse the use of their wires for the transmission of press dispatches.

Express and the Farmers.

If the farmer community of this valley ever had any doubts as to the unfriendliness of the Evening Express toward them, the following editorial on the failure of E. E. MORAN'S Sons, which appeared in its issue of Friday, ought to at once and forever settle the matter. The little trimmer has never forgiven the Grangers for nailing down its malicious falsehood concerning their mottoes carried in the Fourth of July procession. To an article from the Call on the failure and rumors concerning it, the Express appends the following:

These contradictions only give ground for the most serious kind of reflection, and when the rubbish is sifted and the dust is blown off, it is found that the house of E. E. MORAN'S Sons have only reaped the fruit of an impossible attempt by the farmers of California to control the market of the limited means to control and influence the markets of the world. It was an ambitious scheme, but it was a failure, and it is shown, to have kept the price of grain both here and in Europe, and there can be no doubt that every wheat farmer in the State would to-day prefer to sell his grain to the market, and not to the railroads, and that the railroads have kept its usual channels and have sold at the price prevailing, than to have entered the market. The Democrats refused, unless two places on the Advisory Board were given them. Immediately a disagreement resulted and the conference near midnight adjourned sine die without action. The Democrats threatened an immediate appeal to force. An indignation meeting is proposed for Friday night. The White Leaguers have been called to assemble to-morrow night.

Steamboat Explosion.

DETROIT, October 22d.—The propeller Brooklyn, of the Northern Transportation Company, exploded the boiler this afternoon in the river 12 miles below this city. Sixteen persons are reported missing. The steamer Cuba brought the survivors, a number of whom are badly injured, to this city.

Nine bodies have been recovered from the wreck of the steamer Brooklyn. More missing. Several of the crew and passengers are fatally injured. The steamer was racing at the time of the explosion.

British Partisan Feeling.

SHERIFFPORT, October 22d.—It is reported that about seventy merchants are to be arrested here for pledging themselves to discharge any employee who should support the radical party in the impending contest. There is but little excitement about the matter.

Destitution—Reciprocity—Resignation.

CHICAGO, October 22d.—Ten thousand inhabitants of Nebraska will have to depend on charity for food this winter.

The Board of Trade of Kingston, Canada, has condemned the reciprocity treaty.

It is stated authoritatively that J. F. FOX, President of the Michigan Central Railroad, has tendered his resignation to the Directors of the Company, which may be accepted.

Third Term.

The National Republican, which has been advocating a third term for President Grant, says to-day that the Presidency during another term would have few attractions for Grant. It concedes upon him no further or higher honor. There is no reason therefore to suppose that he desires it. On the contrary, his natural tastes and inclinations are known to be in the loyalty of the naturalization law before the Second District Court.

A Drunken Row.

BROOKLYN, October 22d.—This failure to agree and the final adjournment of the Conference Committee, in no way impairs the agreement heretofore made, except as to the Advisory Board, which can do nothing without an umpire. Packard states that the Conservatives would be given two members of the returning Board as original agreement. Wright, the State Register of votes, has given notice that he will to-day receive the opinion of the Attorney-general as to the legality of the naturalization law before the Second District Court.

Advise in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, October 22d.—The political fight is gradually warming up. General Williams is still on hand, and is as confident as possible.

Kendall, despite the newspaper comments on his recent speech, continues to be a decided favorite.

Some four hundred names are registered in this election to the county and several contracts to pave the streets of Eastern cities.

A serious accident occurred this morning caused by the breaking of a fast-bolt. The shafting was considerably twisted, and if the machinery cannot be set to rights before morning a serious loss of time will be involved, as the fires in the furnaces cannot be kept up after that time.

Governor Bradley, who has been in town for the last few days, leaves for Boston to-morrow morning. Judge Belknap preceded him here to-day.

Politics are getting quite warm as the election approaches. The registry books closed to-night. About one thousand four hundred names are registered in this election to the county and several contracts to pave the streets of Eastern cities.

It is stated authoritatively that J. F. FOX, President of the Michigan Central Railroad, has tendered his resignation to the Directors of the Company, which may be accepted.
